

CAPS FOR CANCER RESEARCH

October 24, 2004 - Newsletter N° 27

Cap from Russia

The objective of C4CR is to gather 10.000 different beer caps, which will then be sold to a beer museum, with 100% of the proceeds being donated to a Cancer Research Foundation.

Thank you to all of our friends around the world for helping us with this worthy project.

Well, it's been over a year since we started C4CR... We sure hope that you have enjoyed reading the C4CR newsletters as much as we have producing them. Publishing this one-pager every fortnight, as regular as clockwork, for a total of 26 issues has turned us a bit cocky, thus today's theme. Can you guess which cap comes from Australia, Belgium, Canada, China, France, Germany, Guatemala, Italy, Mexico, the Russian Federation, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States of America?

• How far are we?

So far and thanks to your help, we have gathered over 5,600 different beer caps from 145 parts of the world! This has been accomplished in a year, which might indicate that the C4CR project may conclude in less than a year from now. We'll see, but it means that now, more than ever, we need your help. So please do continue to send us caps. Preferably they should be beer caps, but soda, water, bat juice, etc... also do help, as we can trade these for beer caps we don't yet have with crown cap collectors from around the world (yes, these people do exist, and most of them are wonderful individuals!)

Cap from the USA

• Kudos to our contributors:

This week we'd like to thank Julien P. and his friend Luc R. from Ezanville (France) for their continued support to C4CR. Julien brought us caps back from a Basque brewery as well as caps gathered while working in a Riviera restaurant, while Luc sought caps from his family in Belgium. Thank you both for your help and dedication.

C4CR wishes you a great Halloween, and as the cap says: "Get up and send us some caps (free translation)"
